on the third floor, rear, of the theatrical boarding house of Louis Braunn at No. 166 West Thirty-sixth street, early this morning, when she fell out. Her body struck some stout wire netting which guarded a skylight to the cellar in the rear yard. She rebounded and was picked up unconscious by Braune, who heard her fall.

Dr. Everingham removed the woman to New York Hospital, suffering from contusions and a possible fracture of the spine. She is a daughter of Mrs. Esther Thompson of Marion, Ind.
